AMID SHOWER OF BULLETS

Passenger Car Full of People Kept Busy Dodging.

THREE MEN WERE HIT

Two Chicken Thieves Arrested at Mount Carmel, Ill., Pulled Guns on Way to Jail and One of Them Was Killed.

Mount Carmel, Ill., Dec. 23.—Two men were killed, a third was probably fatally injured and every window was shot out of a passenger coach on the Southern railroad yesterday when two men in a car were dodging bullets for several minutes, the train meantime running at high speed.

When the smoke had cleared away, Constable James Kingston and Isaac Marshall, one of the prisoners, were dead and Edward Marshall, the other prisoner, was probably fatally wounded. A bullet passed through the cap of a brakeman but no one else was harmed.

The Marshall brothers were arrested Thursday on a charge of stealing chickens. They were held for trial. Constable Kingston started for Fairfield with the prisoners. The men in the smoking car were thrown into excitement when one of the Marshall boys drew a revolver and shot Constable Kingston dead.

Several men in the car drew revolvers and attacked the prisoners. Many shots were fired by the armed passengers and by the Marshalls. When both the prisoners had fallen to the floor the fight ceased.

Edward Marshall was taken to Fairfield and placed in jail with a strong guard to prevent a possible lynching.

A SQUARE FIST EIGHT ALL RIGHT, SAYS DEWEY

But Hazing Is Cowardly and Brutal—Famous Vermont Admiral States That He Believes in Fighting of Right Kind.

New York, Dec. 23.—Admiral Dewey, in an interview today, puts his foot down squarely on the practice of hazing, characterizing it as cowardly and brutal. The admiral says he believes in fighting—good, hard fist fighting, and sees that an evenly matched fight, with proper incentives behind it, does not hurt a boy, but that it rather tends to harden and broaden him.

PANIC CAUSED BY FIRE

One Thousand Passengers on Ferry Boat in Peril.

New York, Dec. 23.—While the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western ferry boat, loaded with passengers, was crossing the river, a fire broke out on the lower end of the boat, causing a panic among the passengers. The fire was caused by a stove in the kitchen. The passengers were ordered to leave the boat, and the ferry boat was towed to the shore. The fire was extinguished, and the passengers were safely landed.

Brattleboro, Dec. 23.—It was learned yesterday that a dam on Pleasant Valley brook, belonging to Mr. Crowell, who is putting in a new water system, was destroyed with dynamite, probably sometime Thursday night. The dynamite was taken from the blacksmith shop of Crosby & Parker, the contractors who are building the water system of the Sunset Lake Water company. It is supposed this act was committed by someone who wished to prevent the company from piping into their mains the present system.

LEFT DIRECTIONS FOR FINDING BODY

Ned A. Plummer, One of Best Known Architects of Southern Vermont, Shot Himself in Head at Brattleboro Yesterday.

Brattleboro, Dec. 23.—Ned A. Plummer, aged 37 years, one of the best known architects in southern Vermont, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting himself through the head with a revolver, in his apartment over the Vermont National bank here. His sister, Mrs. Henry Plummer, and her husband, on returning to their rooms about four o'clock yesterday afternoon found a note stating that Plummer's body would be found in the front room.

Plummer also wrote that Mr. and Mrs. Plummer had been very kind to him and that his rash act was due to his ill health and he was tired and lonely.

Mr. Plummer was a native of this town and a graduate of the Troy Polytechnic Institute. He was associated in business with his father, the late J. A. Plummer, contractor and builder, who died about two years ago. Mr. Plummer was the architect of the Hooker block and several fine residences in this vicinity.

HE VINDICATES CURZON.

New British Premier Upholds Civil Against Military in India.

London, Dec. 23.—The announcement of Premier Campbell-Bannerman in his speech at Albert hall on Thursday night at the opening of the electoral campaign, that the government has given instructions for the stoppage of importations of Chinese coolies to South Africa, caused the Indian press to break yesterday. Leading shares fell 3-16 to 3-8.

The premier's reference to Indian affairs, in which he said: "We shall make ourselves a party to no step involving an invasion of the sacred principle of the subordination of the military to civil authority," is taken by many military men to imply either the recall or the resignation of Gen. Lord Kitchener, the commander-in-chief in India, who successfully appealed to the late government in his disputes with the late viceroy, Lord Curzon of Kedleston.

While the premier had little to say on the Irish question, the Conservatives will take his announcement that those democratic affairs which concern the Irish people alone and not us should be in their hands, as a reiteration of the policy of home rule, and this will be the battle cry of the Unionists in the impending campaign.

THOUSANDS KILLED IN MILLS

Unions Force Statistics Before Factory Inspectors.

Pittsburg, Dec. 23.—The United Labor League, representing all trades union, has compelled Chief Factory Inspector J. C. Delaney to take cognizance of the fact that three thousand accidents have occurred in the Carnegie mills this year, and that only three have been officially investigated by the State Department. The Labor League has informed Captain Delaney that in the Pressed Steel Car Company, the American Sheet & Tin Plate mills and the American Steel & Wire mills over six thousand men have been injured for life this year, and that the death list is appalling. They attribute the casualties to the failure of the manufacturers and corporations to equip machinery with the safety appliances prescribed by existing laws. They call attention to the fact that many Pittsburg workshops are mere human slaughter-houses, and ask why the State factory inspector does not come to Pittsburg and attend to his business.

ONE KILLED, SIX HURT.

Wreck on Illinois Central; Woman is Crushed.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 23.—One passenger killed and six were injured in a wreck on the Illinois Central railroad near Holly Springs, Miss., yesterday. ## VERDICT OF GUILTY AGAINST W. D. ALLARD

Bridgewater Man Found to Have Killed Thomas McCormick in a Drunken Row—Jury Was Out Four and a Half Hours.

Woodstock, Dec. 23.—William D. Allard of Bridgewater, who has been on trial in Windsor county court since December 19 on the charge of killing Thomas McCormick December 2, was found guilty yesterday of murder in the second degree. J. C. Burgett and E. R. Buck argued for the defense, basing their pleas on the theory of insanity. Attorney General C. C. Fitts closed for the prosecution and argued that Allard's crime resulted from the use of liquor. It was asserted that he could not be an imbecile, as he would never have been discharged from the state hospital for the insane had such been his condition, and that confinement where he could not get liquor resulted in his cure at Waterbury.

Judge W. W. Miles charged the jury. He explained the law and quoted decisions bearing on the case. The jury returned at 9:35 o'clock in the forenoon and after being out four hours and a half brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree.

BITTEN BY A SHARK.

Exciting Incident on a Warship in the Philippines.

Naval surgeons have some curious cases to deal with on board Uncle Sam's warships. Assistant Surgeon F. M. Munson has made a report to the navy department which ought to settle the long-disputed controversy as to the man-eating propensities of sharks.

"On Nov. 2, 1904," says he, "a boat-crew's mate of the Piscataqua, then lying in the inner harbor of Olongapo, P. I., while bathing from the deck, was bitten on the foot by a shark. The man had a good view of the shark and there can be no doubt as to the identity of the species of fish.

"The two are-shaped bites, one on the dorsal and one on the plantar surface near the toes, showed unmistakably the marks of three rows of teeth in each located on the lower jaw. The shark's teeth were torn from the underlying tissues for two inches; two tendons and several branches of the dorsalis pedis artery were severed. One of the tarsal bones was crushed into small fragments. On the plantar surface the thick fascia was torn away about one inch. As soon as the man was lifted out of the water an aseptic dressing was applied by the hospital apprentice and the medical officers were sent for.

"As the wound was bleeding profusely, a tourniquet was applied and the man immediately taken ashore and placed upon the operating table; the fragments of bone were removed, the arteries ligated and tendons sutured; the fascia on the plantar and the skin on both surfaces sutured, through and through drainage was secured by a rubber drainage tube left in the wound. The man was sent to the naval hospital at Cavite the following day, and recovered, some stiffness of the foot remaining."—Washington Star.

She Was Not to Be Fooled.

Jim Matthews, who sells shoes all over the West for a Cincinnati house, was at the Brown Palace Monday. During the evening Matthews and another shoe salesman were talking "shop" near the desk in the lobby. "Say," said Clerk Churchill to them, "I want to ask you fellows something. How about this claim you often hear, that women always want to wear shoes a size or two too small for them? Do shoe clerks have to fool them?" "Sometimes they do," replied Matthews, "but not nearly so much as the newspaper humorists would have you believe. I never shall forget a time that I was waiting on a woman in Kansas City when I was a clerk. She was elegantly dressed and very stylish. Her feet called for a No. 4 shoe. I figured she would have to be fooled, so I got a No. 4 and said: 'Madam, here is a No. 2. I think it is exactly what you wear.' " "Did it please her?" asked Churchill. "Please her! I should say not," replied the shoe salesman. "She got up and picked up her bundles. 'Young man,' she said, 'you are simply a liar. I have been fooled or lied to. Then she walked out. The proprietor, who had been standing near, was serious a moment. Then he smiled. 'Well, Jim,' he said, 'she called the turn on you, anyway. You do tell some awfully big ones.'"—Denver Post.

TRACY CAUGHT OFF GUARD

Popular Sheriff of Washington County in Hands of Friends.

High Sheriff Frank H. Tracy of Washington county isn't often caught napping the way he was caught last night, and still it wasn't disagreeable. During the day State's Attorney Jackson sent him off to St. Albans and Burlington on matters of business, and during his absence his deputies took the sheriff's house by storm and held it against all comers. Along in the afternoon a telegram was sent to Sheriff Tracy to come home. He came. Walking into his private room in the Elm street quarters at Montpelier he encountered his first surprise when he butted into a score or more of people—deputy sheriffs, side judges and state's attorney. After he had recovered sufficiently to talk, he said: "Come on, boys, let's do something." The party acquiesced and then led their host into his own dining room, where Mrs. Tracy had set a banquet. That was surprise No. 2 for Mr. Sheriff. The guests fell to and made the board look like Mother Hubbard's cupboard when she went to get her poor dog a bone.

PRESENTED GOLD WATCH

Sheriff Tracy Was Given a Genuine Surprise by His Deputies, the State's Attorney and Two Side Judges of County.

Then when the crumbs had been swept up, State's Attorney Jackson, one of the ring leaders in the plot, delivered the charge to the host in a few happy words, and Deputy Graves of Waterbury nailed down the third surprise by presenting Sheriff Tracy a handsome gold watch and chain, the former being inscribed: "Presented to Frank H. Tracy, sheriff of Washington county, by his deputies." Brief remarks were made by Side Judges Wells and Huntley and Deputy Camp. Sheriff Tracy is just recovering.

Mrs. D. Falciano Burned in Attempting to Extinguish It.

Northfield, Dec. 23.—A fire started in the ell part of the house owned by Nelson Tyler and occupied by Dominio Falciano Thursday night and only for the alarm given by some young ladies who were passing would have resulted seriously. Mr. Falciano had taken the children to bed and had herself fallen asleep. The wind blew a curtain against a lamp which instantly caught fire. Mrs. Falciano was awakened and was successful in getting the children to safety without being burned. In her attempt to put out the fire she was burned about the hands and arms and parts of her clothing were burned off. The damage was slight, being confined to the bedding.

Now Janitor Jones has a place to eat dinner and a place to sleep. Joyful Occasion at Miles' Hall Last Evening. Lasting Until the Early Hours This Morning—The Programme.

The third annual banquet and dance of the Glenugie club, an association of natives of a certain section of Scotland, was held in Miles' hall last evening. About fifty couples were present.

The grand march started at eight o'clock and from then until the early morning hours the merry-making was not slackened. J. P. Marr, president of the club, acted as toast master in his usual jovial manner. Immediately following the grand march the following programme was carried out: Scotch reel; president's address; song, Louis Griffith; toast, Glenugie club, John Stephens; song, John Angus; song, Louis Griffith; toast, Scotchland, George Booth; Scotch and American melodies, Glenugie orchestra; reading, William Butler; song, Miss Cordier; toast, Bushy, which Mayor Barclay was to have given, but owing to the fact that he is away for several weeks he sent his toast to President Marr, who read it before the club; song, William McHardie; song, William Daniels; duet, Mr. and Miss Cordier; character dancing by William "Troup" and Robert Cordier.

A sumptuous and remarkably tempting banquet was prepared by Caterer Mrs. John Mailden, who outdid herself in her efforts to make this the best of Glenugie club banquets.

Dancing, interspersed with songs by various members of the club, was kept up until early morning.

The whole affair was one of the happiest occasions ever held by the club.
